Following is the program to be given at Wainaku lawn tonight at the Enoch Arden concert for the benefit of the Hilo Free Kindergarten:

ENOCH ARDEN.

Poem by Alfred Tennyson.

Music Setting by Richard Strauss.

PART I.

- (Annie and Enoch Motives Predominate.)
1. Long lines of cliff broken by the chasm where three children played.
2. The lovers in the hazelwood.
3. Enoch's little cottage.
4. Enoch's departure.
5. A secret pair of lovers—Annie and Philip, in the hazelwood.
6. Annie's dream.

PART II.

(Enoch Motive Predominant.)

1. The lonely tropical isle.
2. Enoch waits for a sail.
3. He returns to his forsaken home.
4. He learns of his wife's marriage.
5. He views, under cover of the darkness, Philip's happy home.
6. He reveals himself; dies.

Reader, Mrs. A. G. Curtis.

Pianist, Miss Caroline Potter.

Deputy Sheriff Fetter.

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Fetter has assumed the duties of his office. He has not yet resigned from the captaincy of the local company of the National Guard. While in Honolulu Mr. Fetter made several raids with the redoubtable Chillingworth and took pointers on conducting cases in court. He comes into his new duties well equipped to perform them.

Life at Kilauea.

Manager Bidgood of the Volcano House reports that business at the mountain hostelry has been excellent of late, despite the fact that neither volcano is active. The weather at Kilauea has been superb during the past four weeks. A whole month passed without any rain. During the first third of this month over fifty guests registered at the Volcano House.

Large supply of fresh rhubarb at the Hilo Market.

Dr. John Holland has permanently located in Hilo.

Weber piano for sale, at Dr. Russell's, Mountain View.

For sale—Plymouth Rock Roosters. Apply T. F. Wills, Pahala.

The March Delineator and patterns have arrived at Moses & Raymonds.

A business meeting of the club was called on April 8 at the home of Mrs. Rice for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and for the admission of new members.

Walluku Bridge Finished.

The last rivet was driven in the Walluku bridge last Saturday afternoon. Fred Naylor, who had charge of this part of the work, saw to it that Bridge street business men had a chance to participate in the little ceremony which completed the biggest and best bridge in the Hawaiian Islands. J. G. Serrao, Mr. Keech, the local representative of the Honolulu Iron Works, H. L. Ross and Jack Easton pumped the bellows which heated the last rivet and welded the hammers which tightened it in the bars.

I. Erickson was the sub-contractor who erected the bridge which now awaits the building of approaches to reopen to Bridge street its old time rush of traffic.

The Likelike.

The new Wilder steamship Likelike is expected to be ready for her run out of Honolulu by April 1. She will leave Honolulu every Monday morning and return to that port Fridays. She will touch at the following ports: Kanaakakai, Kanaakapali and Lahaina; thence to Kamalo, Pukoo, Halawa, Wailau, Pelekunui and Kalaupapa (Molokai), Honolulu (Maui); Kahalepalaoa or Manele (Lanai); Olowa, Kihai, Keawakapu, Makana (Maui), and the Island of Kahoolawe by special arrangement. Returning will leave Lahaina on Friday, touching at Pukoo, Kamalo and Kanaakakai.
